

INDEX

Daniela Célleri, Tobias Schwarz, Bea Wittger

- Introduction: interdependencies of social categorisations in past and present societies of Latin America and beyond 7

THEORETICAL CONTRIBUTIONS

Floya Anthias

- Social categories, embodied practices, intersectionality: towards a translocational approach 27

Sérgio Costa

- Entangled inequalities in Latin America: addressing social categorisations and transregional interdependencies 41

PERFORMANCES OF IDENTIFICATIONS

Ulrike Schmieder

- Interdependencies of class, ethnicity and gender in the postemancipation societies of Martinique and Cuba 65

Ezequiel Adamovsky

- Cipriano Reyes and the paradox of a non-diasporic “negro” identity in Argentina 91

Dennis Avilés Irahola

- Decentralisation and local power relations in Chuquisaca, Bolivia 115

Olena Prykhodko

- Creating a feeling of belonging: consumer citizenship as a media project 137

Daniela Célleri
Returning home and being runa . Dynamics of in- and exclusion in an Otavalan village, Ecuador	163

PERMITTING AND DENYING BELONGING

Ursula Regehr
Conceptualising citizenship, belonging and exclusion in the Paraguayan Chaco	189
Tobias Schwarz
National belonging in the Dominican Republic. The legal position as an interdependent social categorisation	213
Björn Alpermann
Class, citizenship, ethnicity: categories of social distinction and identification in contemporary China	237

UNTANGLING KNOWLEDGE SYSTEMS

Sarah Albiez-Wieck
Social categorisations in the Tarascan state. Debates about the existence of ethnicity in prehispanic West Mexico	265
Encarnación Gutiérrez Rodríguez
Thinking interdependencies. Decolonial feminist perspectives on labour and migration	289
Caroline Braunmühl
“ Kultureller Rabatt ” (“Culture discount”)? The debate about a “cultural defence” in the criminal law, and what gender has got to do with it ...	311
THE AUTHORS OF THE BOOK	331